

Chase City, Virginia

This filling station opened in 1920 as the Boswell Tire and Service Center, a modern facility positioned on the corner of Sycamore Street en route to the downtown Chase City district. The unique placement allowed vehicle traffic to enter the station from either street. Today, this well-preserved building stands in testament to the vitality that spurred the town's growth in the early years of the twentieth century. It served the community for many years and, today, serves as a reminder of driving under the canopy for full service answering the call to "Fill 'er up!"
